SAVE THE DATE

National Assets at Risk:
Recognizing and Addressing the Threat

Wednesday, 29 October 2008 • Grand Hyatt Washington, Washington , DC

- Find out how the National Counterintelligence Executive defines Critical National Assets.
- Obtain unique insights into how counterintelligence impacts every organization regardless of its mission.
- Learn from private industry experts how building alliances between government and industry partners can help corporations recognize and address threats to their critical assets.
- Engage with panelists on the challenges of identifying risks in the global marketplace.
- Learn how to act on the responsibility to protect critical national assets from future threats, attacks, and espionage while mitigating risk and addressing counterintelligence issues.

Register and get more information at http://www.fbcinc.com/cisymposium